Two new Priests are walking down Fennell Ave nearing their new Parish of St Margaret Mary. They see a sign that says, “Aces Old Timers Bar - ALL drinks 10 cents.” Father Bill & Father Mike look at each other and then go in, thinking, this is too good to be true.

The old bartender says in a voice that carries across the room, “Come on in and let me pour one for you! What’ll it be, Fathers?”

There’s a fully stocked bar, so each of the Priest orders a beer. In no time the bartender serves up two ice cold beers, and says, “That’ll be 10 cents each, please.”

The Priests stare at the bartender for a moment, then at each other. They can’t believe their good luck. They pay the 20 cents, finish their beers, and order another round. Again, two ice cold beers are produced, with the bartender again saying, “That’s 20 cents, please.” They pay the 20 cents, but their curiosity gets the better of them. They’ve each had two beers and haven’t even spent a dollar yet.

Finally Father Mike says, “How can you afford to serve beers as ice cold as these for a dime apiece?”

“I’m a retired steelworker from Stelco,” the bartender says, “and I always wanted to own a bar. Last year I hit the Lottery jackpot for $125 million and decided to open this place. Every drink costs a dime. Wine, liquor, beer—it’s all the same.”

“Wow! That’s some story!” Father Bill says.

As the two Priests sip at their beers, they can’t help noticing seven other people at the end of the bar who don’t have any drinks in front of them and haven’t ordered anything the whole time they’ve been there.

Nodding at the seven at the end of the bar, Father Mike asks the bartender, “What’s with them?”

The bartender says, “They’re Knights of Columbus from your Parish”

“They’re waiting for Happy Hour when drinks are half-price.”
